Narratives

Disaster Damage:

HOUSING IMPACT
The majority of the property in Joplin that was affected by the May 20, 2011 tornado was residential property that contained a variety of single and multi-family as well as owner and renter-occupied dwellings. Because the tornado touched down on the west-side of the City, and indiscriminately tore through neighborhoods, residents of all demographic and income statuses were affected.

The estimates of affected residential dwellings, which would include everything from 1 apartment unit to a single family residence, showed that a total of 7,500 units received some level of damage from this disaster. Approximately 4,000 dwellings were destroyed with an additional 3,500 damaged affecting an estimated 17,000 residents. The dwellings that were deemed uninhabitable were estimated to displace approximately 9,200 residents from the City of Joplin.

INFRASTRUCTURE IMPACT
An assessment of public infrastructure and infrastructure systems that were damaged due to the May 22nd tornado was performed by the City's Public Works Department with the initial FEMA assistance was considered. The three main infrastructure elements that need additional assistance at this point are Sidewalks, Trails, and Trees.

ECONOMIC IMPACT
The path of the May 22, 2011 tornado also crossed a few of the commercial corridors in the City of Joplin which had a large effect on the local economy. There were 553 businesses destroyed or severely damaged, but approximately 85 percent, or 446 businesses, percent are back in operation. Thirty-nine businesses have indicated that they will not rebuild/reopen, and 21 new businesses have opened in the area.
Between 4,500 and 5,000 employees were affected by the tornado but over 90 percent of jobs have been regained, which is partially attributable to the fact that many jobs were at major employers such as the hospitals and Wal-Mart, which have decided to rebuild. Overall, the local economy is fairly strong although smaller businesses are still struggling. The large number of volunteers, resources, and support has helped increase spending in the area and sales tax revenue is up 14 percent compared to a year ago. Future revenue will depend on how long the rebuilding will take and continued development of Joplin. Although the short-term sales tax revenue has prospered due to rebuilding activity, it will be important to introduce more diverse revenue sources back into the community that will ensure that revenues will remain after the rebuilding activities subside.

Recovery Needs:

HOUSING NEEDS. As a result of the May 22, 2011 tornado, several residential properties were severely impacted, which included a variety of single and multi-family as well as owner and renter-occupied dwellings. Residents of all demographic and income statuses were affected. A total of 7,500 units received some level of damage from this disaster, affecting an estimated 17,000 residents. In 2014, to ensure that the CDBG-DR funding was being used to most effectively address the Housing unmet needs, the City of Joplin contracted Bowen National Research to conduct an updated Housing Assessment. The study showed that the largest group of citizens looking to purchase households will be with incomes under $25,000 and the greatest growth is projected to be among the older adult population age 55 and older.

INFRASTRUCTURE NEEDS. Since the initial assessment of infrastructure damages described in detail below and provided in previous amendments, several subsequent assessments of the City's infrastructure needs have been conducted, including a reallocation of funds during the City's Capital Planning process. As a result, a significant portion of the City of Joplin's CDBG-DR Round II funds will be applied toward public infrastructure improvements. Those unmet needs are addressed in the Round II Action Plan as amended.
EC0NOMIC NEEDS. The path of the tornado crossed several of the commercial corridors in the City of Joplin which had a substantial effect on the local economy. 553 businesses were destroyed or severely damaged by the storm.

The community continues to have an ongoing need for economic development to stimulate the economy. Infrastructure improvements were needed to provide services to new industries. In addition, a key aspect of Joplin's recovery is employing the unemployed and upgrading the skill sets of the underemployed. There is a need to fill gaps in the area's workforce, provide better-skilled workers and appropriate infrastructure to existing and new companies, and enable local residents, particularly those with low/moderate incomes (LMI) to advance their skills and, consequently, their standard of living.

Public Comment:

The City of Joplin provided an informal public meeting on July 3rd with a prominent posting on the City's official website indicating written comments would be accepted through July 12that 5pm. The public meeting was advertised in the Joplin Globe and information was disseminated through local groups that have been active in Joplin's recovery efforts. Although conversations were held with the attendees of the public meeting, no written public comments were received during the mandatory 7-day comment period nor have any written comments been received before or after the official comment period.
