Questions & Answers

If I am 16 and driving on an instruction permit, may I drive with my 17-year-old friend who has an intermediate license?

No. If you are driving on an instruction permit at age 16, the person beside you when you are driving must be at least 21 years old and have a valid driver license. If the adult driver has restrictions on his/her driving, then those restrictions must be followed when accompanying the teen driver.

Will the time that I drive with a qualified driver training instructor count towards the 40 hour behind-the-wheel requirement for an intermediate license?

Yes. When you apply for your intermediate license, a qualified person or grandparent must accompany you to the contract office and sign your application, stating that you have completed 40 hours of behind-the-wheel driver training while operating on an instruction permit. This 40 hours may also include any time that you have operated a vehicle with a qualified driver training instructor.

If I have an intermediate license, may I drive around town with my friends without an adult in the vehicle?

For the first six months, you cannot drive with more than one passenger who is under the age of nineteen who is not a member of your immediate family. After the first six months, you cannot operate a motor vehicle with more than three passengers who are under 19 years old and who are not members of your immediate family.

Everyone in the vehicle must wear seat belts and obey the curfew (1:00 a.m.–5:00 a.m.). Please refer to the chart on the reverse side of this brochure for more information about the curfew.

If I am under age 18 and I have a full license from another state when I move to Missouri, what type of license will I get?

If you are eligible to receive a Missouri driver license, an intermediate license will be issued. However, if you apply within the 30 days immediately preceding your 18th birthday, a full driver license may be obtained.

Who must accompany me to the contract office to get my instruction permit and intermediate license?

- In order for you to obtain the instruction permit, a qualified person must accompany you to the contract office and sign your application stating that he or she will provide you with at least 40 hours of behind-the-wheel driver training.
- In order for you to obtain the intermediate license, a qualified person or grandparent must accompany you to the contract office and sign your application stating that you have received 40 hours of behind-the-wheel driver training.

If my intermediate license expires on the weekend or holiday, can I still drive?

If your intermediate license expires on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, you may continue to drive for a period of five business days. This will allow you to legally drive to your local contract office to renew your license.

Is it illegal to drive while sending, reading or writing a text message?

MISSOURI'S GRADUATED DRIVER LICENSE LAW

Q & A

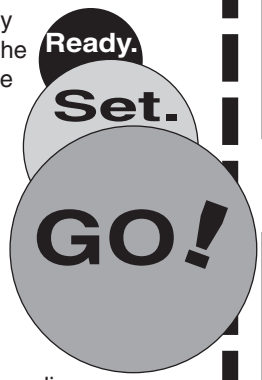

DOR-4821 (07-2010)

What is the Graduated Driver License (GDL) law?

Missouri's Graduated Driver License law requires that all first-time drivers between 15 and 18 years old complete a period of driving with a licensed driver (instruction permit) and restricted driving (intermediate license) before getting a full driver license.

- ✓ If the permit holder is under age 16, the accompanying licensed driver must be a qualified person, grandparent, qualified driving instructor, or in case of disability, their designee.
- ✓ At age 16 the driver may apply for an intermediate license. The intermediate license allows the driver to drive alone except during a late night curfew (1:00 a.m. to 5:00 a.m.). The driver and passengers must use seat belts, be free of alcohol and drugs, and obey the traffic laws.
- ✓ At age 18, or within the 30 days immediately preceding his/her 18th birthday, the intermediate license holder may apply for a full driver license.
