MISSOURI

DOWNTOWN JOPLIN HISTORY & FACTS

Joplin, a city of 52,084 residents located in both Jasper County and northern Newton County, serves a region of over 400,000 and is the fourth largest metro area in the state of Missouri. Joplin's daytime census grows to nearly three times its evening population because of a large employment base. Joplin residents and businesses benefit from outstanding transportation infrastructure and assets such as the City operated Joplin Regional Airport and a network of federal and state highways, including I-49, I-44, and the historic Route 66, to name a few. The public has access to excellent medical care with two regional hospitals: Mercy Hospital Joplin and Freeman Health System. It is also served by Access Family Care (a Federally Qualified Health Center) and Community Clinic of Joplin (a free clinic).

The region is home to an outstanding array of educational opportunities with a variety of quality public and private schools. Elementary and secondary public education is provided by the Joplin R-VIII School District, serving more than 7,700 students in grades K-12 across 15 campuses. Private schools in the area include Thomas Jefferson Independent Day School, College Heights Christian School, and the Joplin Area Catholic Schools (JACS) System. Joplin has a wide variety of higher education offerings, including Missouri Southern State University, Crowder Community College, and Ozark Christian College. The City is home to a new medical school, Kansas City-Joplin University Medicine & Bio-Sciences, the first new medical school built in Missouri in more than forty years. Additionally, Kansas City University (KCU), with a 104-year history of successfully impacting the health of the region, has recently announced it will be opening a College of Dental Medicine on its Joplin campus. There are also colleges and universities nearby such as Pittsburg State University, in Pittsburg, Kansas, and Missouri State University, Drury College, and Evangel College in Springfield, Missouri.

Joplin is known for its resilience and "can do" spirit as evidenced by a rebirth and reinvestment following the EF-5 tornado that devastated over 30% of the community in 2011. Outdoor enthusiasts appreciate the abundant recreation opportunities the area offers, from taking a stroll through one of the City's seven parks with trails to hiking along the banks of sparkling Shoal Creek up to the limestone bluffs at Shoal Creek Conservation Center. The community also hosts running events from 5k up to marathon distances, cycling along historic Route 66, and the largest open-water triathlon between Kansas City and Dallas. Grand Falls, Missouri's highest continuously flowing waterfall, is located just south of Joplin on Shoal Creek and is a local favorite. Joplin offers residents and visitors alike a wide range of entertainment and cultural opportunities. Downtown Joplin offers plenty of shopping opportunities at local boutiques, and national department stores can be found at Northpark Mall and Range Line Corridor. Joplin has a strong art scene, with over a dozen public murals on display throughout downtown that tell the story of the history of the community.

DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION

Downtown Joplin shopping and living has experienced a resurgence; Joplin is on the verge of adding even more living space to the blossoming food, entertainment, and arts scene. Downtown Joplin, the heart of the City, is surging through the return of living spaces, a new cultural arts center and courts facility, as well as the increase in the restoration of historic structures and the iconic Spiva Park.

Downtown Joplin is also surrounded by historic neighborhoods and continues to attract residents from those areas to be part of its vibrant scene. This location and its downtown residents are within walking distance of a great mix of restaurants, coffee shops, boutiques, vintage shops, business services, and events and activities. Downtown is the only walkable retail district in Joplin. The synergy of complementary small and locally owned businesses is really what makes it special.

- Throughout 2021, Downtown Joplin Alliance saw public and private investment of over $45 million in the historic district from 36 projects.
- Downtown Joplin offers the most unique shopping and dining experiences in the region.
- There are a number of incentives to downtown development, including historic tax credits.
- 200 new apartments in the coming 24 months, nearly doubling the number of downtown residents.
- The district saw a net gain of 19 new businesses and 54 new jobs.
- Downtown supports the biggest concentration of locally owned businesses.
- Third Thursday is Joplin's signature event and brings approximately 5,000 people to Main Street every month.
- Community surveys show demand for more restaurant/food services, grocery stores, pharmacies, and entertainment for all ages in the downtown area.
